

Discussion Paper on Urban Food Systems for City of Victoria Released

This is a comprehensive paper that looks at Urban Food Systems and specifically focuses on the history, and current situation of the City of Victoria. In addition, there is a summary table that is quite useful that compares different cities and their support and policies in place around urban agriculture and food systems.

Here is the announcement from the authors.

After a wait of several months, I am delighted to share finally the City of Victoria Food System Discussion Paper with you. Thanks so much to each of you for your contributions, large and small. Your help was essential in helping to paint a picture of the impressive range of activities and issues happening within Victoria - I hope that we have done it justice. There will also be a presentation at a later date as part of the City's OCP process, likely this spring. I will keep you posted.

<http://www.shapeyourfuturevictoria.ca/research-facts/discussion-papers/>

Thanks again for your help, and feel free to share widely.

Kristina Bouris (and Linda Geggie and Derek Masselink)

Food System Planner
Masselink Environmental Design
kristina@masselinkdesign.com home office: 250.384.1775