

Agriculture Conservation Holidays

Submitted by The Land Conservancy

Are you interested in spending a few days on a local sustainable farm? Do you want to rub shoulders with the people that grow your food? Spend some days in the sunshine laughing, learning about farming and.....working a bit too? The Land Conservancy has been running its Conservation Holiday program for 8 years and we are now having holidays focused on learning about food and farming. We will be having four Agriculture Conservation Holidays this year at the following farms:

- Foxglove Farm and Grandview farm on Salt Spring Island (4 days)
- Duck Creek farm and Wave Hill Farm on Salt Spring Island (4 days)
- Keating Farm in the Cowichan Valley (3 days)
- Madrona Farm in Victoria (1 day)

Dates for these holidays will be posted shortly at www.conservancy.bc.ca. Click on 'Ecotourism' and then on Conservation Holidays to find out the details or call us at 479-8053. Hope to have a strawberry with you out on the farm!!
