

Bringing about positive change in the food and agriculture system within BC's Capital Region

Community Social Planning Council manages the programs of the Capital Region Food and Agriculture Roundtable (CR-FAIR) to benefit Greater Victoria residents

A call for nominations – 2012 Food and Agriculture Champions

Once a year we take the time out to formally identify people, organizations, governments and businesses doing outstanding work in creating greater food security and more sustainable food systems in BC's Capital Region. There is so much great work being done and these awards are an opportunity to say a big thank you, recognize people for their commitment and work, and inspire others in their work.

Tell us about that person or group you know who is doing great work around food related issues?

Please fill out the following form by and submit it by 16 January 2012. A selection committee will choose the 2012 recipients. Awards will be presented at Seedy Saturday on 18 February 2012.

Nomination Form

I would like to nominate: _____

Organization Name: _____ (optional)

For the following Award Category

- | | |
|---|--|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Farming Community Contribution | <input type="checkbox"/> Business Community Contribution |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Food Provision | <input type="checkbox"/> Government initiatives |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Urban Agriculture | <input type="checkbox"/> Special Recognition |

Your Name: _____

Contact Info: _____

Nominee Contact info: _____

This person deserves to be recognized by their peers in this category because (250 words or less please):

Remember to send in your nomination by 16 January 2010
to info@communitycouncil.ca, tel: 383-6166 ext. 100

Questions? Contact Christina Peacock by email: Jackson.peacock@telus.net or tel: 250-652-1259